All About Buses

A few months ago, Bus Conversion Magazine acquired the Coach Information Network. As a result, we now have over 750 manuals for buses like GMC, MCI, Flexible, Prevost, RTS, Neoplan, Yellow, Dina, and Eagle. We also have Detroit Diesel engine manuals and Transmission manuals.

We believe that every bus owner should carry the appropriate manuals for their bus in the event they have a breakdown and need to rely on a shop to make repairs. This could save you thousands of dollars in wasted time with improper diagnosing, repairs, or searching for parts required for your bus, transmission, or engine. We believe that this is so important that we offer a 10% discount to all BCM subscribers when ordering these manuals.

On Coachinfo.com, there was also an extensive amount of miscellaneous bus information. Much of the information was sourced from the Encyclopedia of Buses. (Subscribers can read the entire Encyclopedia of Buses for FREE on our Documents page.) We have been working diligently to accumulate as much bus information as we can and make it available to you in one location, on our website.

So, we started the All About Buses section of our website. Some of the information on this page is lacking and we would like your help to add the missing information. Our magazine and website are, and always have been based on the community's tribal knowledge of bus owners and bus converters. We believe our readers are the right experts and we are asking for your help in improving this page.

Click on the link to visit our "All About Buses" page <https://www.busconversionmagazine.com/all-about-buses/> and see what information is missing. We need information such as production history, specifications, any fascinating details, and/or historical information you may have about these bus models. We also need images of these buses to add to the profiles.

We will also start to add other buses that are not yet on the list. Perhaps you have information on Crowns, Gillig, Thomas, Blue Bird, International, Tourmaster, etc. The more information that is available to our Bus Nuts, the better.

If you have information that is missing or lacking, please email me at Sandra@BusConversionMagazine.com. Any information you can provide on these buses will be helpful and appreciated. Also, if you see information that is posted that you know to be incorrect, we would like to be informed of such so it can be corrected.

If you provide us with any information, we will extend your online subscription for up to 6-months, as our way of thanking you for your help. Our community will appreciate any help you can provide to expand on this information database.

If you have a friend that may be able to help, please forward this request to them, and maybe they can help provide some information. We will gladly sign them up for a free 6-month subscription to Bus Conversion Magazine so they can enjoy this valuable resource as much as you do.
