

THE 2023 PEOPLE'S TINY HOUSE FESTIVAL

by Marcus Alvarado

The 2023 People's Tiny House Festival was a resounding success, attracting a vibrant community of participants and showcasing an impressive collection of over 40 stunning structures. Throughout the festival, attendees were captivated by the diverse array of tiny homes, van conversions, and school bus conversions, each representing the ingenuity and creativity of the tiny house movement.

With over 80 participants and vendors in attendance, the festival buzzed with energy and excitement. Notably, the event featured influential thought leaders from the tiny house movement who shed light on the evolving regulations in Colorado, sharing promising news of increased support and acceptance for tiny house living.

Beyond the awe-inspiring exhibits and insightful talks, the festival fostered a sense of connection and camaraderie among attendees. Live music performances added a joyful soundtrack to the event, while local vendors served delectable food and beverages, enhancing the overall experience for everyone involved!

As we reflect on The 2023 People's Tiny House Festival, we take pride in uniting a diverse community of tiny house enthusiasts, professionals, and curious visitors. By showcasing the beauty and potential of tiny house living and highlighting positive regulatory changes, we continue to inspire and support the tiny house movement on its path toward a sustainable and minimalist future!
